BIOGRAPHY

Major General Michael D. Rochelle assumed command of the U.S. Army Recruiting Command Jan. 7, 2002. As commanding general, he is responsible for recruiting quality young men and women to serve in the Active Army and Army Reserve. Under his direction, five recruiting brigades conduct recruiting operations throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and at U.S. facilities in Germany and Asia.

A native of Norfolk, Va., and a graduate of Norfolk State University, Major General Rochelle was commissioned as a Regular Army Officer in 1972. He first served a combat arms detail as a lieutenant of field artillery with the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault), located at Fort Campbell, Ky. Following assignments included forward observer and fire direction officer with the 321st Field Artillery, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) and Fort Campbell.

Commanding both at the grade of captain and major, Major General Rochelle commanded first the 226th Adjutant General Company (Postal) in Munich, Germany, and later the U.S. Military Entrance Processing Station, Portland, Maine.

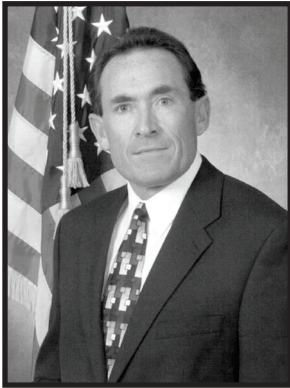

Major General Rochelle served as operations officer, professional development officer, and ultimately as deputy chief, General Officer Management Office, Office of the Chief of Staff Army, the Pentagon. In November 1988, Major General Rochelle assumed command of the Brunswick Recruiting Battalion (now the New England Recruiting Battalion), Brunswick, Maine. Following a return to the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) as the Division G-1 and Adjutant General, he assumed command of the U.S. Army Garrison and installation at Fort Monroe, Va. He also served as the Senior Military Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Defense, the Honorable John J. Hamre, and later as the Special Assistant to the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel.

Major General Rochelle is a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, the U.S. Army War College, and holds a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Shippensburg State University.

Major General Rochelle came to the Recruiting command from an assignment as the Commanding General of the U.S. Army Soldier Support Institute, Fort Jackson, S.C.

Major General Rochelle's decorations include the Defense Distinguished Service Medal, Distinguished Service Medal (Army), Defense Superior Service Medal, Legion of Merit with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Army Commendation Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and Joint Service Achievement Medal. He is authorized to wear the Army Staff Identification Badge, the Joint Staff Identification Badge and the Office of the Secretary of Defense Identification Badge.

Major General Rochelle is married to the former Grace Hickman, also of Norfolk, Va. They have three children: Shernita Rochelle-Parker, a graduate of Boston College and the University of Maine School of Law; Captain Shawnette Rochelle, a 1999 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, and Michael Jr. is a graduate of Hampton University in Virginia.

Dr. James T. Blake is the Deputy Program Executive Officer (DPEO) for Simulation, Training, and Instrumentation (STRI). He is responsible for providing materiel solutions and services in modeling, simulation, training and test/instrumentation to support the Soldier.

PEO STRI annually executes programs valued at more than one billion dollars with a workforce that includes over 600 military, civilian, government and industry personnel. Acquisition programs cover 452 contracts valued at more than $6.7 billion and support 5,500 training systems at 415 sites worldwide and 18 countries. In addition, PEO

STRI's Foreign Military Sales program supports 52 countries.

Dr. Blake began his service to the nation as a Private in the U.S. Army and completed his military career as a Colonel while serving as the military's senior Uniformed Army Scientist.

During his military career, Dr. Blake served in many positions and locations, including aviation operations in Vietnam. In addition, he served more than eleven years in the research, development, and acquisition arena. Within the Army Acquisition Corps, he holds level-three certifications in five disciplines.

After leaving the military, Dr. Blake held several technical and executive positions in industry before joining academia where he served as a Senior Research Scientist at Texas A&M University.

While at Texas A&M, Dr. Blake joined the Simulation, Training and Instrumentation Command as the Program Manager for the Institute for Creative Technologies (ICT), the internationally recognized University Affiliated Research Center for Advanced Modeling and Simulation. In March 2003, he became the DPEO STRI.

Dr. Blake is a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, the Defense Systems Management College, and the U.S. Army War College. His formal education includes a B.S. degree in Accounting from the University of Tampa, an M.S. degree in Systems Engineering from the Naval Postgraduate School, and a Ph.D. in Computer Science from Duke University.

Dr. Blake is a native of Baltimore, Maryland. He is married to Sharon and has two daughters: Melissa who lives in Arlington, Virginia and is a UNC graduate; and Kristen who lives in Atlanta and is a UGA graduate.
